

I love working with computers. My dad is going to help me start a business in computer publishing like he did for my mom. It is called ComputerJenerations. I can make just about anything on a computer if you give me a few minutes and make it spectacular. ComputerJenerations will mostly be greeting cards, but also certificates, brochures, letterheads, and things like that. So I plan to keep ComputerJenerations going for a long, long time.

Another thing I want to do is be an artist. I think if I don't I'll just be wasting a lot of talent. I'm not saying I'm a perfect artist. The biggest room in my house is the room for improvement, as it is for everyone. Anything that has to do with art, I love. I especially love drawing, but I like painting, sculpting, and other forms of art. Art is a part of me, so even if I don't become famous, I'll at least have pictures I drew of my kids hanging above the fireplace. I like cartoony drawing, but I'm mostly better at realistic drawing. My best pieces are portraits of women and animals.

Writing comes as naturally to me as art. I would bet money on the fact that there must be hundreds of stories I've started and left unfinished over the years. When I was younger I liked to write children's books and illustrate them. It's a dream of mine to become a female Chris Van Allsburg. Now I'm into writing short stories and trying to write novels.
